GALERIA ARTE PERIFÉRICA

it makes sense

The text 'it makes sense' is written in a bold, black, cursive script. From the bottom of each letter, a vertical line extends downwards, resembling a paint drip. The drips vary in length and thickness, adding a dynamic, street-art feel to the typography.

It makes sense, cork and tile, like all things in life, is an experiment.
Experiments are mediators between nature and idea.
When ideas fail, men invent words.
But in the end, we won't remember the most beautiful face, we'll remember the most powerful word.
